GANYMEDE ARTS UNVEILS EXCITING 2007-2008 SEASON Highlights Include 'The Lion in Winter' and 'Sweeney Todd'

WASHINGTON -- Ganymede Arts, formerly the Actors' Theatre of Washington, is on the cusp of a fun and fascinating new season that will continue to advance its mission in the gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender community.

Mark your calendars for Ganymede Arts' first annual fall GLBT arts festival, which will take place Oct. 19-28 at the historic Church Street Theatre. The carnival will feature theater, dance, instrumental and vocal performances that will take over the entire theatre. Additional details will be unveiled later this summer.

Later in 2007, ring in the New Year with Ganymede Arts and the glamorous gals of Sexe! Special Agent Galactica and her crew are preparing for yet another cabaret-themed crowd-pleaser.

The second half of the season will kick off in April 2008 with "The Lion in Winter," James Goldman's classic play about family dysfunction. Ganymede Arts will conclude its season in August 2008 with the classic Sondheim musical thriller "Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street."

Along with the productions, Ganymede Arts will present art and music shows. Come to the theatre an hour early on performance nights and walk through a gallery of visual work by a featured GLBT artist. On Friday and Saturday nights, while you enjoy the art, experience live music as well. On nights that "The Lion in Winter" and "Sweeney Todd" are not performed, the space will feature music, spoken word, performance art, new play readings and other offerings.
